

II. Commentaries on the Amra Cūṣa.

1. At the head of the commentaries which have been used, must be placed that of RĀYA MUCUṬĀ, (or VRĪHASPATI surnamed RĀYA MUCUṬĀ MAṆĪ). This work entitled Paḍachandricā, was compiled, as the author himself informs us, from sixteen earlier commentaries, to many of which he repeatedly refers: especially those of CSHĪRA SWĀMĪ, SUBHŪTĪ, HADDA CHANDRA, CALINGA, CŌNCAṬĀ, SARVADHARA, and the Vyāc'hyāmrīta, Ticāsarvaṃsa, &c.*

Its age is ascertained from the incidental mention of a date: viz. 1353 Sāca, or 1532 of the Calinyuga, corresponding to A. D. 1431.

Though the derivations in MUCUṬĀ's commentary be often inaccurate, and other errors also have been remarked by later compilers, its authority is in general great; and, accordingly, it has been carefully consulted under every article of the present work.

2. Among the earlier commentaries named by RĀYA MUCUṬĀ, that of CSHĪRA SWĀMĪ is the only one, which has been examined in the progress of this compilation. It is a work of considerable merit; and is still in general use in some provinces of India, although the interpretations not unfrequently differ from those commonly received.

3. The Vyāc'hyāmrīta, a modern commentary by RĀMĀŚRAMA or by BHĀNUDECHITA (for copies differ as to the name of the author) is the work of a grammarian of the school of Benares. He continually refers to RĀYA MUCUṬĀ and to SWĀMĪ; and his work serves to confirm their scholia where accurate, and to correct them where erroneous. It has been consulted at every line.

* The following names may be selected from MUCUṬĀ's quotations, to complete the number of sixteen: Māṇḍūkya, Māṇḍūkya, Sarvānanda, Alakāśa, R. C. J. K. N. Y. A., G. V. N. H. A., D. V. I. D. A., T. M. J. A. N. A.. For some of these appear to be separate works; rather than commentaries on the Amra Cūṣa. MUCUṬĀ occasionally cites the most celebrated grammarians, as PĀNINI, JAYADITYA, JIMBĒDA, MAITREYA, HANU, PRAVĀHĀNĀ, &c. &c.
